

Service organization offers transportation to students

Earth Temple, a Columbus-based, non-denominational religious and service organization, is organizing a shuttle and car pool from the Mt. Vernon Plaza to the Central State University campus in Wilberforce, Ohio.

Anthony Hodge, the founder of Earth Temple, is a graduate of the Central State class of 1976. Hodge is a criminologist and private investigator. He was a commuter himself when he attended Central State. His business and family was centered in Columbus but Hodge felt he greatly benefited from attending Central State.

Earth Temple's new venture with Central State will begin in September on the first day of fall classes. The service is geared toward students who cannot afford to live on campus or choose to commute back and forth between Columbus and Central State.

Earth Temple is in need of volunteers to help out with other aspects of the commuting service. For more information, call 231-5595, c/o Earth Temple Inc., P.O. Box 2-700 Columbus, Ohio 43227.
